

Links to linguistic typology and some other (maybe) useful links

ALT – Association for Linguistic Typology
<http://www.lancs.ac.uk/fss/organisations/alt/>
(membership directory, grammar watch)

Many typologists have some of their publications on-line on their homepages. Some examples:

Matthew Dryer <http://linguistics.buffalo.edu/people/faculty/dryer/dryer/dryer.htm>

Martin Haspelmath <http://email.eva.mpg.de/~haspelmt/>

Östen Dahl <http://www.ling.su.se/staff/oesten/index.htm>

Maria Koptjevskaja Tamm <http://www.ling.su.se/staff/tamm/>

Michael Cysouw <http://email.eva.mpg.de/~cysouw/>

Balthasar Bickel <http://www.uni-leipzig.de/~bickel/research/papers/index.html>

Stephen Levinson <http://www.mpi.nl/Members/StephenLevinson/Publications>

Nick Enfield <http://www.mpi.nl/Members/NickEnfield/Publications>

The Leipzig Glossing Rules <http://www.eva.mpg.de/lingua/files/morpheme.html>

The Universals Archive <http://ling.uni-konstanz.de:591/Universals/introduction.html>

Das Grammatische Raritätenkabinett <http://ling.uni-konstanz.de:591/universals/introrara.html>

Surrey Morphology Group homepage: <http://www.surrey.ac.uk/LIS/SMG/>

(Under Construction): Linguipedia

http://lingweb.eva.mpg.de/~confer/wiki/index.php/Main\_Page

Questionnaires <http://lingweb.eva.mpg.de/fieldtools/tools.htm#questionnaires>

The Ethnologue (An encyclopedic reference work cataloging all of the world's 6,912 known living languages)

<http://www.ethnologue.com/>

The Rosetta Project: Building an Archive of ALL documented human languages

<http://www.rosettaproject.org/archive/>

Dictionaries <http://www.yourdictionary.com/languages.html>

Max Planck Institute for Psycholinguistics in Nijmegen (with hopefully more of their stuff on-line in the future)

<http://www.mpi.nl/>

Library Hyper-Catalogue (Germany and some other countries)

<http://www.ubka.uni-karlsruhe.de/kvk.html>

Book reviews: <http://linguistlist.org/pubs/reviews/browse-by-publ.html>

Used and out of print books: <http://used.addall.com/>

For those who read Swedish: <http://www.ling.su.se/lingvistik/special/samlisar/samlisar.html>