

19th Salos Summer School of Linguistics
Academia Grammaticorum Salensis Undevigesima
 Salos Manor, Rokiškis Municipality, July 25–July 29, 2022
 Preliminary programme

The programme of the Salos event consists of two parts: the Summer School and the Salos Linguistics Conference. In the programme below they are differentiated by colour. The slots are 9.00–10.30, 11.00–12.30, 14.00–15.30, 16.00–17.30 EET. The allotted time of 90 minutes includes questions and discussion. If it is not used up, the remaining time is added to the coffee or lunch break. Changes in the arrangement of lectures and talks are still possible. Those joining us remotely from abroad should remember all times are Eastern European Time (GMT +3).

Monday 25	Tuesday 26	Wednesday 27	Thursday 28	Friday 29
Morning session (9.00–10.30 and 11.00–12.30, with coffee break in between)
Guglielmo Inglese Typology and diachrony of the Middle Voice I. Background: transitivity, valency and voice	Östen Dahl The grammaticalization of directionals as markers of perfectivity I	Eitan Grossman Areal and universal patterns in the lexicon of perception and cognition	Östen Dahl The grammaticalization of directionals as markers of perfectivity II	Gilles Authier Typological diversity in three languages of the Caucasus III. Argument structure and valency change
Gilles Authier Typological diversity in three languages of the Caucasus I. Intro. Phonetics. Morphosyntax of the noun phrase.	Eitan Grossman Agentive nominalizations are a great idea, but not universal: towards a diachronic typology	Gilles Authier Typological diversity in three languages of the Caucasus II. Verbal categories: TAM, indexing	Eitan Grossman Thoughts on the grammar of the body	Guglielmo Inglese Typology and diachrony of the Middle Voice III. The diachronic typology of the middle voice
Afternoon session (14.00–15.30 and 16.00–17.30, with coffee break in between)
Eitan Grossman Typologically dispreferred structure through change: a case study in affix ordering	Guglielmo Inglese Typology and diachrony of the Middle Voice II. The middle voice from antiquity to typology	Uta Reinöhl Nominal expressions and what grammaticalization can do to them (online)	Anna Daugavet The perfect participles in Baltic	Kirill Kozhanov Differential object marking in Romani dialects across Europe
Davit Yobidze The syntactic function of the adverbial case and the issue of formal agreement in Old Georgian	Tamaz Devidze The valency of a verb and the interchange of case forms in Old Georgian	Anzhalika Dubasava "On the 'vitality' of primary Latvian verbs.	Vladimir Panov Reconciling typology, general linguistics and linguistic anthropology: Points of interdisciplinary dialogue.	Axel Holvoet Lithuanian and the Talmyan typology of event conflation: On a rare type of verb-framed construction
Performance by the Kaunas String Quartet and Robertas Beinaris, oboe		Academia Salensis statutory meeting	Theatre performance: The Bunker by V. V. Landsbergis, director E. Daugnora	