

Academia Grammaticorum Salensis Vigesima

Salos Manor, Rokiškis Municipality, July 23–July 29, 2023

Programme

The slots are 9.00–10.30, 11.00–12.30, 14.00–15.30, 16.00–17.30 EET. The allotted time for invited lectures is 90 minutes, which includes questions and discussion. The allotted time for contributed talks is 45 minutes, which also includes questions and discussion. Changes in the arrangement of lectures and talks are possible.

Sunday 23	Monday 24	Tuesday 25	Wednesday 26	Thursday 27	Friday 28
Morning session
	Miina Norvik, Morphosyntax in the light of contacts: Finnic and Baltic I: Intro	Lidia Mazzitelli, Predicative possession in the languages of the Circum-Baltic area	Lidia Mazzitelli, Impersonal constructions in Baltic and Slavic	Norbert Ostrowski, Conditional subordinators in Baltic and Slavic	Lidia Mazzitelli, Valency-changing morphology and voice in the Oceanic languages of Northern New Ireland, Papua New Guinea
	Eitan Grossman, Incorporation Part I	Norbert Ostrowski, OLith. tas-jau/-jag/-jan ‘precisely there’ and OLith. dabar ‘all the time’ (OPr. dabber) or what historical syntax can contribute to etymology	Eitan Grossman, Incorporation Part II	Eitan Grossman, The problem of lexical affixes	Miina Norvik, Morphosyntax in the light of contacts: Finnic and Baltic III: The southernmost Finnic-speaking area as the meeting point
Afternoon session
	Ignas Rudaitis, Approximating dependency trees by reusing substructures Nina Kapušová, Rytq or ryte ? Vakarq or vakare ? Corpus analysis of Lithuanian time expressions denoting time of day.	Jens Burghardt, The past habitual tense in Lithuanian in comparison with Russian Anzhalika Dubasava, A glance at the history of primary Latvian verbs	Miina Norvik, Morphosyntax in the light of contacts: Finnic and Baltic. II: Finnic and Baltic languages in new large-scale databases	Daria Alfimova, Almost parallel translations as a comparative tool. Baltic flagging in diachrony. Anna Daugavet, Past active participles in Baltic: between evidential and perfect (a LiLa-based study)	Trip to Kupiškis and Biržai

Afternoon session (continued)
	Gerhard Edelmann, The tenses of the past in Indo-European languages (Romance, Germanic and Balto-Slavic): The development of the analytical perfect	Jurgis Pakerys, Measuring derivational productivity of Lithuanian suffixed nouns in corpora Kirill Kozhanov, What determines the diffusion of linguistic change: a case study of Romani dialects	Danguolė Kotryna Kapkan, BE perfects and grammaticalization in Bulgarian and Lithuanian: A study based on data from Facebook comments Axel Holvoet, Factuality in event modals	Axel Holvoet, Unanchoring in grammar: tense, aspect, mood
18.30 Opening meeting, introductions, planning	18.00 Performance by the Kaunas Quartet		18.30 Academia Salensis statutory meeting	18.00 Performance by the Kaunas String Quartet