

Conference: 26th July 2024

8:30-9:00 Registration

9:00-9:15 Opening

09:15-09:45 How the measures of derivational productivity depend on lemmatization quality (the case of Lithuanian deverbal nouns) / Jurgis Pakerys (Vilnius University), Virginijus Dadurkevičius (Vytautas Magnus University), Agnė Navickaitė-Klišauskienė (Vilnius University)

09:45-10:15 Ovi ei tahdo aueta—the Door Won't Open: The Many Faces of the Finnish Verb 'tahtoa' and its Usage / Ilkka Posio (University of Turku)

10:15-10:30 Poster booster session

10:30-11:30 Poster session and coffee break

11:30-12:00 Spoken language research in Austria. Creating a framework for analysing internal and external multilingualism in urban areas using speech production tests / Dragana Rakocevic (University of Graz)

12:00-12:30 The 'New' New Zealand English: An Intergenerational Comparative Analysis of Te Reo Māori Loanwords and Pronunciation / Laura Gage (Vilnius University)

12:30-13:00 Building a Hungarian Dysarthria Corpus: Preliminary Insights / Bernadett Dam, Árpád Berta, László Tóth, Lívia Ivaskó (University of Szeged)

13:00-14:00 Lunch

14:00-14:30 The EXIST Possessive constructions in the Languages of the Ethiopian Area / Wakweya Olani Gobena (University of Potsdam)

14:30-15:00 Formal language theory: still relevant in 2024? / Ignas Rudaitis (Vilnius University)

15:00-15:30 Coffee break

15:30-16:30 From evaluative to deontic predication: Evidence for the grammaticalization path from clausal complementation strategies / Axel Holvoet (Vilnius University)

16:30-17:30 Discussion & rounding up

17:30-18:30 Dinner